Located in the heart of Mumbai, surrounded on three sides by lakes and curtained from the hustle and bustle of the city by the lush greenery is a beautiful campus that produces some of the best professionals for the country every year, and has been doing so for the past 50 years. The students call it the God's own campus and the world outside knows it as NITIE.

National Institute of Industrial Engineering (NITIE), often known as the "Mecca of Supply Chain" was established in 1963 by the Government of India. Situated near the majestic Vihar Lake with the Sanjay Gandhi National Park in the background, NITIE is an epitome of tranquillity. Besides, the Powai lake with Hiranan-dani skyscrapers in the background serves as a perfect date spot for the urban young. Not to leave behind the NITIE pond aka Sarovar, where several successful entrepreneurs have found their inspiring big ideas during one of the late night strolls around it.
